STUDENTS IN THE NEWS

Mass Art is pleased to announce that NASA is going to give prints/<sup>of</sup> LEO AUDETTE's "Space Shuttle" illustration to the families of the seven members of the tragic space shuttle accident that occurred last January. Leo (Senior, ILL) was so moved by the tragedy that he spent the entire night, right after the incident, creating an illustration with an emphasis on the uplifting and positive message that can come out of such a happening.

The proceeds from the illustration are going to the Tom O'Hara Scholarship Fund. The Scholarship will be awarded annually to a Mass Art Illustration student in memory of the late Tom O'Hara, a much-loved professor of design, who died suddenly in his early fifties. O'Hara had been hired by NASA to commemorate, in illustration, the August '77 test shuttle landing in the Mojave Desert, as well as the launch, in April of '81, of the first space shuttle. O'Hara's work is on permanent display in NASA's Space Museum in Washington, D.C.

Posters of the Leo Audette illustration are on sale in the Mass Art Bookstore for $5.00 each.

Kudos to DESIGN RESEARCH UNIT and graphic designer MARC ENGLISH, former DRU president. Each will receive awards in the upcoming Art Director's Club of Boston Design Show for the latest DRU stationary ensemble and the poster for the recent Milton Glaser retrospective. When not busy winning awards, Design Research Unit can be found on the 10th floor, Tower Building. English can be found at home drinking sasparilla and Rose's Lime Juice.
